1

Plaintiff Jonathan Lee Riches©, a comedian, runway model and entertainer had a performance contract at the Mandalay Resort and casino, Performing Weekends at 8pm in the players club. "Jonathan Lee Riches Live" is the shows title. Plaintiff would tell Jokes, make prank calls, perform funny Voices, Juggle oranges, etc. to entertain the crowd. Mandalay Resort charges a $10 dollar admittance fee. At the end of the show Plaintiff would pass around a Abe Lincoln Hat for donations to causes.

MAY 6, 2007, Adam "PACMAN" Jones and his associates affiliated with the Black panther party watched the "Jonathan Lee Riches© Live" performance. Plaintiff noticed Defendant under the influence of a Narcotic. Defendant had front row viewing of the "Jonathan Lee Riches© Live", so Plaintiff had a good view. Plaintiff noticed a white powdery substance in MR. Jones nose. During the show MR. Jones became fidgety and edgy. Around 8:42 pm MR. Jones pulled out a medical needle from his left coat pocket. MR. Jones pulled out a bottle labeled "High" from his right pocket. At that point I was distracted and fumbled oranges that I was Juggling. MR. Jones became agitated and began shouting racist comments at me. Some of the words included "white cracker Boy", "You smell like wet Baloney", "Honky". I was very offended by these words as MR. Jones was gaining the attention of the crowd, The crowd was egging MR. Jones to continue verbal threats towards me. Jones told me "He hates white people", "Fuck the white corporate NFL", "I'm da pacman, I eat white crackers for dinner." I was very offended at this point and lost total concentration on my performance. MR. Jones began to instigate the crowd, soon everyone was shouting "Fuck white people". I began to panic as I feared my personal safety. I have a secret panic button that allows security to intervene when trouble exists. Jonathan Lee Riches Live security escorted backstage. I was very distraught, I suffered nose bleeding. I was in a panic state. I had to rush home because I feared for my safety from MR. Jones.

At 10:02 pm, I entered the employee parking garage outside Mandalay Resort. I recently purchased a BMW 325 I convertible. I was walking towards my vehicle when I heard pounding footsteps approaching me. I was proceeding to turn around when I was punched in the nose with brass Knuckles, I fell to the ground, I looked up and Adam "pacman" Jones was standing over me. He stated "cracker Boy, I play for the Tennessee titans, fuck You white Boy." MR. Jones'es Black panther party associates were standing behind him. MR. Jones told his associates to hold me down. four of MR. Jones associates grabbed my arms and Legs and put me in a spread eagle position. I began to scream and shout but the parking lot was empty. Another one of pacman Jones associates put their boot in my mouth to silence me. MR. Jones then told me "this is what we do to white boys", MR. Jones began urinating all over me. I was scared to my guts. MR. Jones and his associates then began to spit and kick me. At that point I began losing consicious, the last thing I remember seeing of MR. Jones is him using brass knuckles and smashing my left wind shield to my vehicle. MR. Jones and his associates then left the scene.

I suffered a partial heart attack from this incident, A very kind bystander took me to Sunrise Hospital where I filed a police report. I have not heard of the result of the investigation as I believe police were more focused in MR. Jones involment outside a gentlemens club. My Assault was never looked at, I never recieved an apology from MR. Jones, I suffer everlasting trauma. I was a law biding citizen before this event. I was forced to move away from Las Vegas fearing MR. Jones might attack me again. I moved to florida. I was unemployed and now am facing legal trouble. I'm currently in a detention facility but the trauma I suffered on the night of May 6, 2007 I will never forget

Conclusion

Plaintiff moves this honorable court for the Defendant Adam "pacman" Jones to respond. Plaintiff prays for relief. Plaintiff seeks $14,000,000 million dollars seeking compensatory and punitive damages
